Can I take creatine and PrEP at the same time?

An elevated level of creatinine in your blood may be due to your kidneys not functioning as well because you take PrEP.

However, creatinine levels also rise when you take creatine to build muscles.

Let your doctor know that you take creatine so he/she can properly interpret your kidney function tests.